"CAN'T GET INTO MED SCHOOL BLUES" By Johnny Luska and the Cremasteric Reflex Band: Mike Burruano, Bob Beyer, Ben Konell

When I was in college only one life was for me,
Getting drunk every night and staying up until three
When I get out in the real world I'll worry about it then,
Right now all I want is to party with my friends.
Then graduation came and a thought occurred to me,
Why not go to med school and get my M.D.
The med schools said, "Get out of here man",
"The only place for you is Med School of Siam."
I'm down on my luck, I feel I paid my dues,
But now I got a case of the "Can't get into med school blues".
I bounced from job to job, a dropout from life,
Lost my self respect in bed with my best friend's wife.
Needed a new start, a career just right for me,
Then I heard about something called OSTEOPATHY.
It's not cracking bones, It's not feeling skin,
It's everything there is to know about medicine.
Got my act together, got my application straight,
Got myself a haircut and now I'm feeling great.
Got myself an apartment with an old college friend,
Got myself an acceptance letter from PCOM.
I'm feeling like I'm someone and did you hear the news,
That letter was my cure for the "Can't get into med school blues"
Now I'm a first year student learning all kinds of good stuff,
I'm studying more than ever, I just can't get enough.
My life has come together, my parents think I'm great,
They used to think that all I did was drink and masterbate
I got myself a girlfriend, I dig her and she likes me,
She didn't believe it when I told her about my history
I thank my stars every day for this second chance,
If not for the people at PCOM I'd be lost, or dead or in France
Soon I'll be a D.O. with a residency to choose, Hard to believe that I almost choked on the can't get into med school blues;
the can't get into med school blues.

CARVEL COMMERCIAL: Mr. Carvel — Morey Menacker

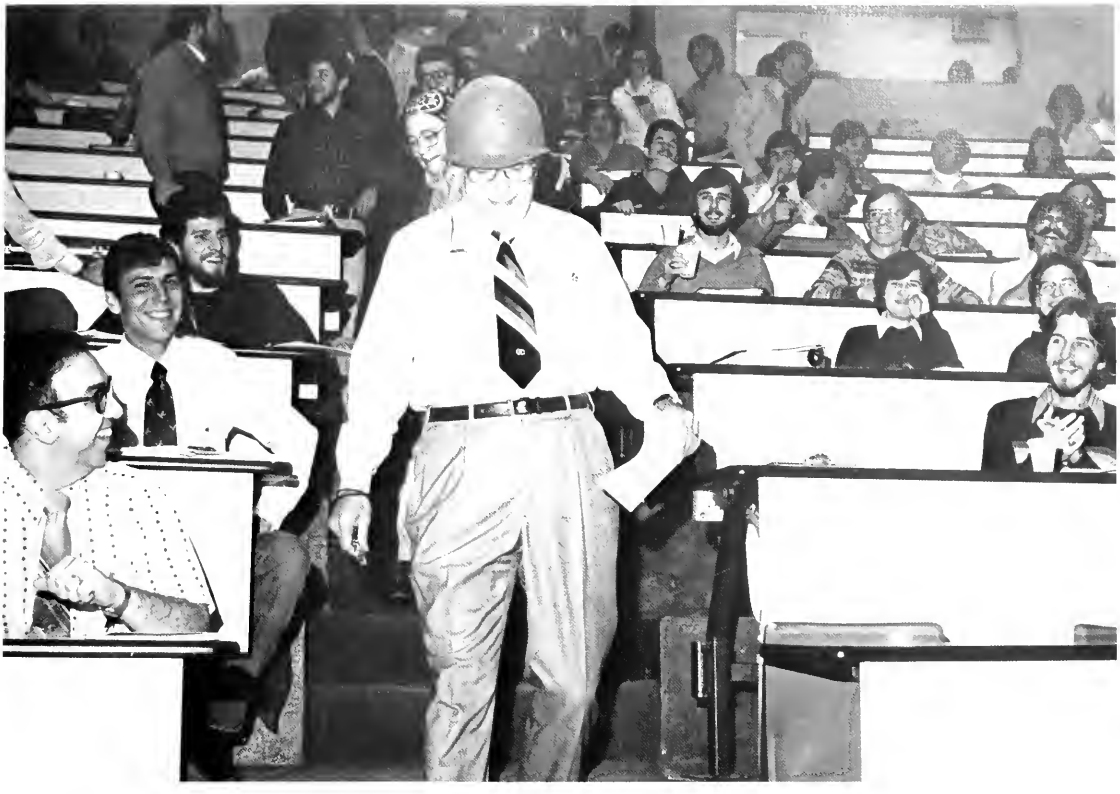
Jeff Brodsky, Morey Menacker, John Fitzgerald, Mike Allshouse



At ease, men, smoke em if you got em. I'd like to talk to you, Class of '82, today a little about character. In talking with some of you, I found that many of you are pretty damn boring. A bunch of mindless, faceless, white-jacketed damn pencil-necked reading machines. Now we all can't be leaders but damn it, my men are going to have some kind of personality by the time they graduate from here. I took the liberty of putting in each of your files a Xerox copy of an article that I found particularly informative on this subject from this month's Playboy. Now I don't want you to think I'm some kind of candyass, usually I only look at the pictures, but Peffall over here, having gotten tired of the pictures, if you know what I mean, read the article and brought it to my attention. It's called Why America Can't Get It Up Anymore. Half of American men, if you want to call em that, are running around with limp dinguses because they got no character. Now read the article and we'll discuss it in the next yearbook. The underlines are mine, the stains are Peffall's.

Getting back on track, how can we as administrators and teachers be expected to instill character in you damn wimps if forced to use multiple choice tests? Now we know for a fact that multiple choice tests are just another tool of the Commies meant to stagnate the minds of today's youths. Let's kick these Commies in the butt, fill in "E" for none of the above, and tell em to stick the multiple choice tests in their Wang Data Processor!!!

Let's get back to basics and give essay tests, the American kind of tests. It's the ultimate confrontation — one man, armed only with a pen and his mind to do battle with an empty blue book. Now I know you men are up to the challenge. This is where you learn the true meaning of the word BULL! We're not only making men here, we're making doctors.

Now read this here yearbook that Brodsky and his crew put so much damn time into, And . . . ENJOY IT!!! Right Peffall? Attention: DISMISSED . . . . . .

CME QUESTIONS

NOTE: The following CME questions have been officially approved by Carol Fox, Director of Student Affairs, and are valid for 14 Class I A.O.A. credit hours.

1-15. (For questions 1-15 please refer to picture below).

16. One of the remarkable aspects of osteopathic schools has been their frequent name changes. Select below the initials that do not represent a past or present abbreviation of the Philadelphia Osteopathic School and Hospital.
    1) O.M.C.P.
    2) P.C.O.
    3) P.O.C.H.
    4) P.C.O.M.
    5) P.C.I.O.

17. Which of the following Osteopathic schools did not exist:
    1) Atlantic School of Osteopathy, Wilkes Barre, Pa.
    2) Western Institute of Osteopathy, Cheyenne, Wyoming.
    3) Littlejohn College and Hospital, Chicago, Illinois.
    4) Bolles Institute of Osteopathy, Denver, Colorado.
    5) Massachusetts College of Osteopathy, Boston, MA.

18. The following was written by which of the below:
    "I quote no authors but God and experience when I write . . . no book written by medical writers can be of much use to us . . ."
    1) Zeppo Marx
    2) Moe Howard
    3) Eugene Braunwald
    4) A.T. Still
    5) Herbert Hahnemann

Match the Barth D.O. with the correct year of birth:

19.	James Conroy (Hem/Onc)	a) 1784
20.	Joseph Dieterle (Peds)	b) 1928
21.	Robert Jama (Surgery)	c) 1930
22.	Leonard Finkelstein (Urology)	d) 1931
23.	Bob Meals (Radiology)	e) 1933
24.	Brendan Wynne (Orthopedics)	f) 1939
25.	Galen Young, Sr. (Surgery)	g) 1944

26. An Osteopath has never been found guilty of which of the below:
    1) Medicare fraud
    2) Art theft
    3) Illegal distribution of narcotics
    4) rape
    5) None of the above

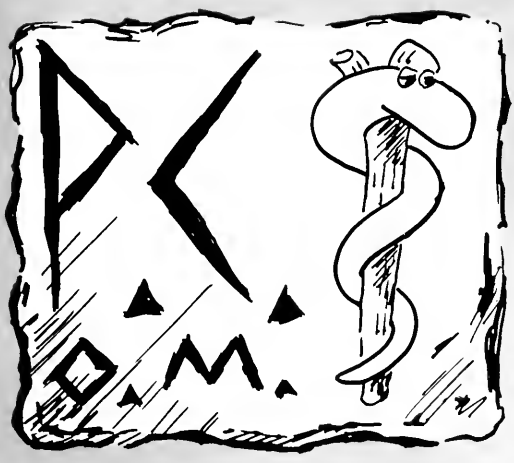
27. Which of the below set of procedures can be performed on human beings at an Osteopathic Hospital:
    1) Coronary Artery Bypass-Pneumonectomy-Hemicolectomy-Partial Nephrectomy
    2) Cholecystectomy-Hysterectomy-Carpal Tunnel Release-Appendectomy
    3) Embolectomy-Osteotomy-Cystectomy-Herniorrhaphy
    4) Middle Cerebral Artery Bypass-Orchiectomy-Rhinoplasty-Tendon Repair
    5) Selective Vagotomy-Aortic Valve Replacement-Bilroth II-Subtotal Pancreatectomy

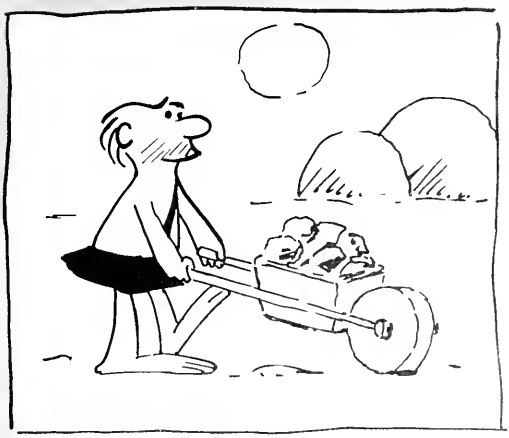
28. Which of the below is a classic Osteopathic Protocol for weight reduction:
    1) Ayds, one before each meal.
    2) exercise, 1200 calorie diet, behavior modification
    3) Lasix 40 mg daily x 14 days and d-amphetamine 5 mg T.I.D.
    4) O.M.T. T_8 — T_{12} daily x 12 weeks
    5) B_{12} I.M. injection weekly x 18

29. Allopathic schools, with names such as "Blahblah College of Medicine", or "Blahblah School of Medicine" award the degree of Medical Doctor, M.D. It follows that a "College of Osteopathic Medicine" should award the degree of:
    1) Doctor of Osteopathy (PhD.O.)
    2) Manipulative Doctor (M.D.)
    3) Osteopathic Medical Doctor (O.M.D.)
    4) Medical Osteopathic Doctor (M.O.D.)
    5) Doctor of Medical Osteopathy (D.M.O.)

30. Assume you were awarded the degree of "Osteopathic Medical Doctor" (O.M.D.) On your white jacket would you:
    1) Use white paint over the "O" in O.M.D.
    2) tell people the "O" is something extra
    3) remove the "O" with a razor blade
    4) state that the jacket was embroidered improperly
    5) completely remove the "O" using a hand grenade

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY





President

To the Class of 1982:

"The quality of mercy is not strained" . . . . .

At one time in the history of man, those familiar words penned by William Shakespeare constituted the essence of medical practice. For generations of humanity, about all that the healer could offer was primitive science and a heavy dose of the arts of compassion, caring, and mercy.

In an about face, in the twentieth century, we find a different connotation to two of the words from the quotation. "Quality" is increasingly applied as a measure of the supposed value of a life; "mercy" frequently construed as demonstrated by permitting a life of less than "quality" level cease to exist.

The paradox is clear. At one time, as the major tool of healing, the art of medicine took precedence over the science; today, the dominance of science causes us to reconsider the art.

I pose this irony to you because it not only represents an issue of our times but, more importantly, is an issue which — accompanied by a host of other medical ethical concerns — is relatively new to the healing profession. Your class and those that follow will be called upon by your fellowmen to help define these concerns in the framework of reality.

Yours will not be an easy task.

Like any caring parent, the members of our faculty and administration have done our best to prepare you for a world in which we cannot supply you all the answers. We are unable to furnish these answers because we, too, do not yet know what they are.

We have, though, made every effort to provide you with the foundation to enable you to deliberate and discern on behalf of your patient. The osteopathic philosophy based upon treatment of the whole person as an individual could not be more appropiate to our times. It is our belief that you will be able to meet the challenge you face of fusing the art and the science of medicine into quality osteopathic medical care.

Congratulations upon your achievement. You have been our students, you have given us purpose, and we will miss you.

But know that, as we stand aside, it is with our love and faith in you and our prayers for your continued well being.

May God bless each of you.

Dear Class of 1982:

I recognize your ambivalent feelings, the emotional tug that signals your graduation from PCOM. You are elated, exultant, with a deserved feeling of relief, joy, happiness and fulfillment. You are also consumed with a tremendous sense of divorcement from a school that has given you an exposure to technological skills, scientific knowledge and the most sophisticated medical facilities and learned faculty in the country.

However, I know from my own experience that it is also heart tugging to separate you from classmates with whom you have shared your celebrations, confidences and anxieties. At some point in your life you will suffer great pangs of remorse if you do not maintain these friendships and relationships for these are significant alliances which can have tremendous influence on your future development.

We, at PCOM, also want to share in that future. We want to be part of your life.

Congratulations and good luck to you and your dear ones.

Faithfully yours,

JSH:ers

The Osteopathic Medical Center of Philadelphia

Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine

Best Wishes, Class of 1982!

Thank you for the privilege of extending my congratulations and greetings to your fine class on behalf of the Faculty and Educational Administration.

You have completed one of the most rigorous programs in medical education - that of osteopathic medicine at Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine. You have verified the decision of the Admissons Committee, and have demonstrated your ability and have earned the privilege and right to be called "Osteopathic Physician". We are proud to have you as alumni of PCOM and members of the osteopathic profession.

I have appreciated the Class of 1982 and its spirit. It has been reflected through all four years. You have demonstrated an attitude of diversity and yet have achieved a high level of class unity. You shared joy and sadness and triumph with one another. I expect Your Class to have some of the largest and best reunions we have seen at PCOM. The high spirit of the Class was evident at the Commencement activities, and I was delighted to see you all enjoy "your week".

Thank you for the interest shown to your College and to future classes in the initiation of the Class of 1982 Library Fund. This was appreciated by the entire college family. The ingenuity of your class and its leaders showed up once more in the way you were able to make this Fund grow.

It has been a delight to have been your Dean. I am certain that many of you will be leaders in our profession and in your communities. It has been a privilege to work with you. PCOM and the Dean's Office is here to serve you, so do not hesitate to call us for assistance in the future. On behalf of the Faculty, the members of the Educational Administration, and our PCOM team, I extend hearty best wishes to each of you. May God bless you all.

Sincerely,

Robert W. England, D.O.

Hippocratic Oath

I swear by Appolo the physician and Aesculapius and Hygeia and Panacea and all the gods and goddesses that according to my ability and judgment;

I will keep this oath and stipulation-to reckon him who taught me this Art equally dear to me as my parents; to share my substance with him and relieve his necessities if required; to look upon his offspring in the same footing as my own brothers and to teach them this Art if they shall wish to learn it.

Without fee or stipulation and that by precept, lecture, and every other mode of instruction, I will impart a knowledge of the Art to my own sons, and those of my teachers, and to disciples bound by a stipulation and oath.

According to the law of medicine but to none others, I will follow the system of regimen which according to my ability and judgment I consider, For the benefit of my patients and abstain from whatever is deleterious and mischievous. I will give no deadly medicine to any one if asked nor suggest any such counsel and in like manner I will not give to a woman a pessary to produce abortion.

With purity and with holiness I will pass my life and practice my art, I will not cut persons laboring under the stone, but will leave this to be done by men who are practioners of this work. Into whatever houses I enter, I will go into them for the benefit of the sick, and I will abstain from every voluntary act of mischief and corruption. And further from the seduction of females or males, of freemen and slaves. Whatever in connection with my professional practice or not in connection with it, I see or hear in the life of men which ought not to be spoken of abroad, I will not divulge as reckoning that all such should be kept secret.

While I continue to keep this oath unviolated, may it be granted to me to enjoy life and the practice of the Art respected by all men in all times!

But should I trespass and violate this Oath, may reverse be my lot!

Osteopathic Oath

I do hereby affirm my loyalty to the profession I am about to enter.

I will be mindful always of my great responsibility to preserve the health and life of my patients, to retain their confidence and respect both as a physician and a friend who will guard their secrets with scrupulous honor and fidelity, to perform faithfully my professional duties, to employ only those recognized methods of treatment consistent with good judgment and with my skill and ability, keeping in mind always nature's laws and the body's inherent capacity for recovery.

I will be ever vigilant in aiding in the general welfare of the community, sustaining its laws and institutions, not engaging in those practices which will be in any way bring shame or discredit upon myself or my profession. I will give no drugs for deadly purposes to any person, though it be asked of me.

I will endeavor to work in accord with my colleagues in a spirit of progressive co-operation, and never by word or by act cast imputations upon them or their rightful practices.

I will look with respect and esteem upon all those who have taught me my art. To my college I will be loyal and strive always for its best intersts and for the interests of the students who will come after me. I will be ever alert to further the application of basic biologic truths to the healing arts and to develop the principles of osteopathy which were first enunciated by Andrew Taylor Still.

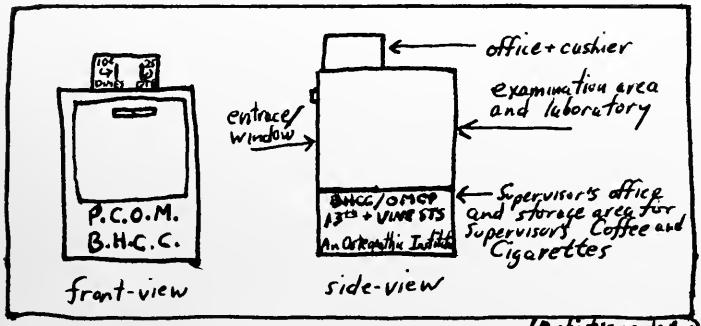
P.C.O.M./O.M.C.P. TO BUY JOURNAL BOXES - WILL BE CONVERTED INTO MORE CLINICS



New PCOM/OMCP Box Health Care Center facilities depicted above. The aquisition of 233 of these former Journal boxes was announced yesterday. See accompanying story.

METROPOLITAN HOSP GETS NINE FORMER BULLETIN STANDS, BONIER SAYS

Phila. (OP)- The Metropolitan Hosp System announced today that nine vacant Phila. Bulletin newsstands were purchased and will open in conjunction with the proposed Metropolitan College of Osteo. Medicine. (The MCOM is slated to matriculate its initial class in Fall 1983.)

A Metro. Hosp. spokesperson stated that plans call for each newsstand to be converted into a 70 bed acute care facility. Each is to contain laboratory, radiology, and emergency depts.

The addition of these newsstands would increase the total bed capacity of the Metro. System to above 1200. Denied were reports that aquisition of the stands was calculated to counter OMCP purchase of 233 former Phila. Osteo. Journal

27 OMCP/BHCC's NAMED BOX SHORTAGE SITES, VEIT ANNOUNCES

Phila. (OPI)- Dr. K. Veit, Director of the OMCP/BHCC system said today that 27 BHCC's have been designated "Physician Boxpower Shortage Areas" (PBSA's) by the National Health Service Corps.

Veit, a former NHSC official, stated that all 27 sites could be used by NHSC scholarship recipients, to do this, the recipient must apply to the Box Practice Option Program. Many be-

233 BOXES AQUIRED WILL GREATLY EXPAND CLIN. ED. SLOTS, THOME SAYS

PLAN TO START NEW WAVE IN OSTEO. MED., ROWLAND SAYS

Phila. (OPI)- Plans for the aquisition of 233 Phila. Osteo. Journal "honor boxes" by the PCOM/OMCP were announced by corporation Pres. Thomas Rowland Jr. at a news conference yesterday. Rowland stated that the boxes will immediately be converted into OMCP clinics. (The Journal will cease publication with this issue)

The Journal and the also defunct Phila. Bulletin had been locked in bitter competition for several months over the sale of their boxes to the OMCP. Pres. Rowland, in announcing the decision to purchase the Journal boxes, stated that a major factor in the choice was "the greater headroom" in the Journal boxes.

Donald Thome DO., chief of Clinical Ed., hailed the aquisition as a "giant leap forward for clinical training at PCOM, and one large step for Osteopathy."

Tentative plans call for each new Box Health Care Center (BHCC) to be staffed by one third year student, each of whom will spent six months of their Junior year as a BOX-DOC. The BHCC's will be supervised by a Senior Student, each of whom will be assigned to a BHCC for six months of the Senior Year.

Rowland made the announcement during a news conference held in the BHCC system "flagship" Box in the entryway of the Barth Pavillion, located between the Phila. Inquirer and Phila. Tribune boxes.

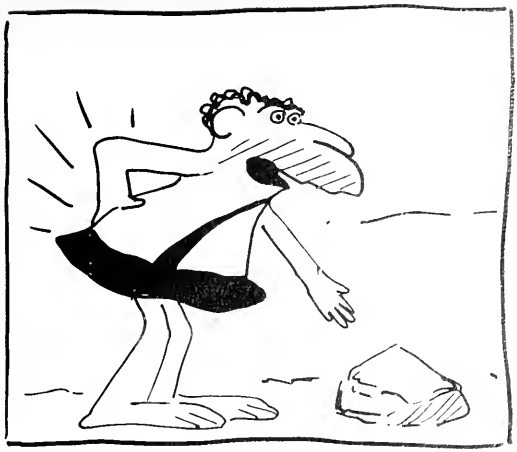
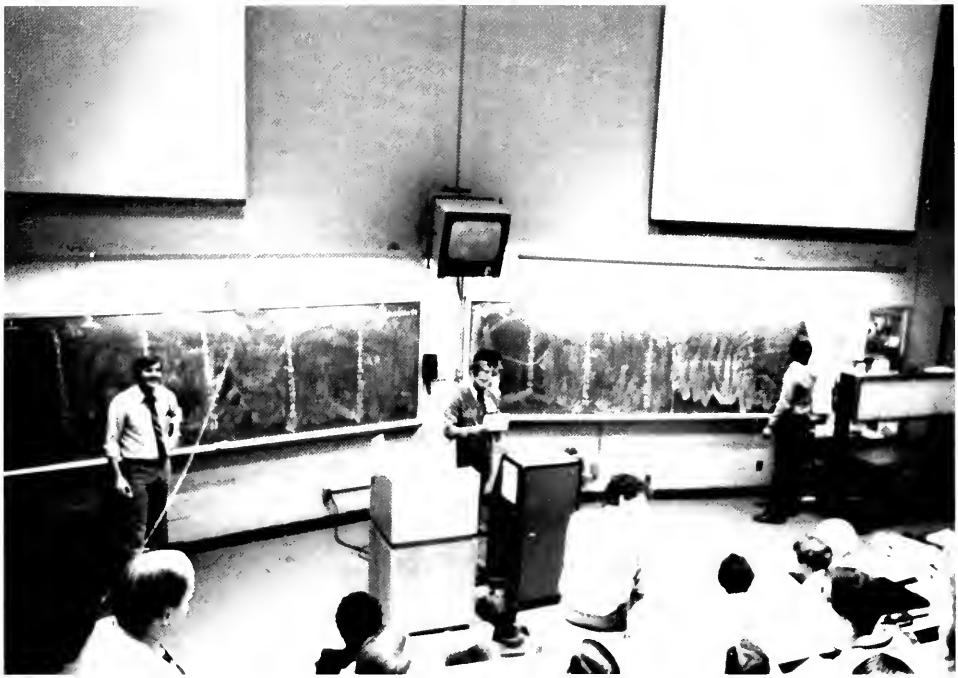
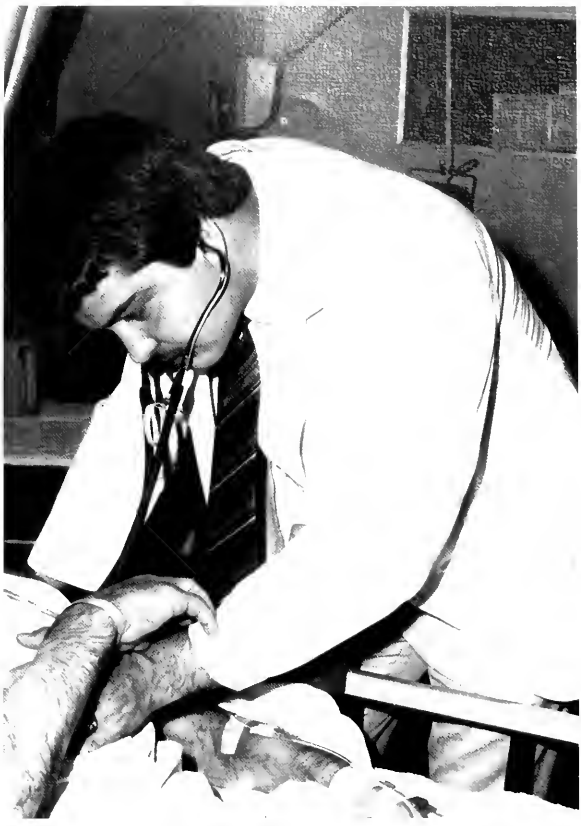
CLINICAL YEARS





Clinical years actually started halfway through our second year when we all took part in the LOTTERY . . .

Medicine can be fun.



I must remember to have the nurses trim this patient's nails.

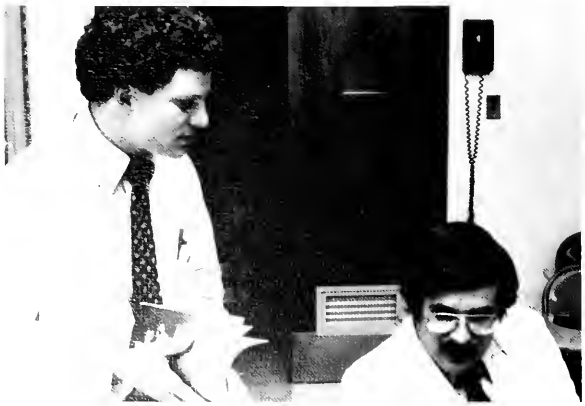
Damn, I wish they would make these beds closer to the ground

Mike, you are going to have to bear with me, I've never patched a nasal septum before

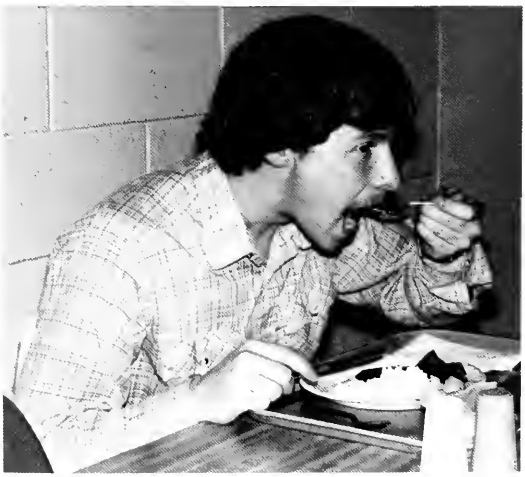
Just for fun, I'm going to R/O gill slits, webbed feet, branchial clefts and scaly skin.

Well, Mr. Jones, it says here on your chart that you had your hysterectomy three months ago.

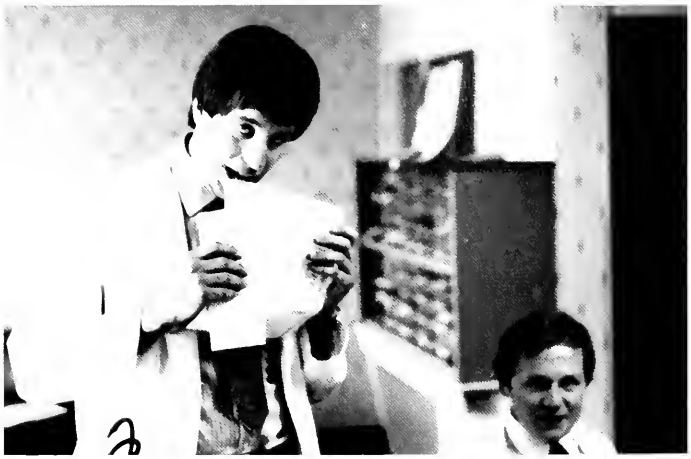
We'll do another hit after the photographer leaves.



Let's intern here next year, I hear you really don't have to do anything.



God bless our free Osteopathic food.



The references in the Annals are always tastier than the ones in the green journal.

That's pretty funny — this guy's got no insurance and they think I'm gonna do the H&P.

Well, Dr. Meals, this is either a cross-section through the middle of a soccer ball or a bitemporal view of Vernacchio's cranium!

My daddy told me when I was an itsy-bitsy little girl that playing the piano would come in handy someday

Mom, wanna take your baby back . . . I think my shirt is wet enough now.

Still thinks he's in Podiatry school.

Just thought of something funny. I'm not laughing at that giant tumor on your face.

Traversing the Center's Imaginary Tunnel connecting 4190 and the College.

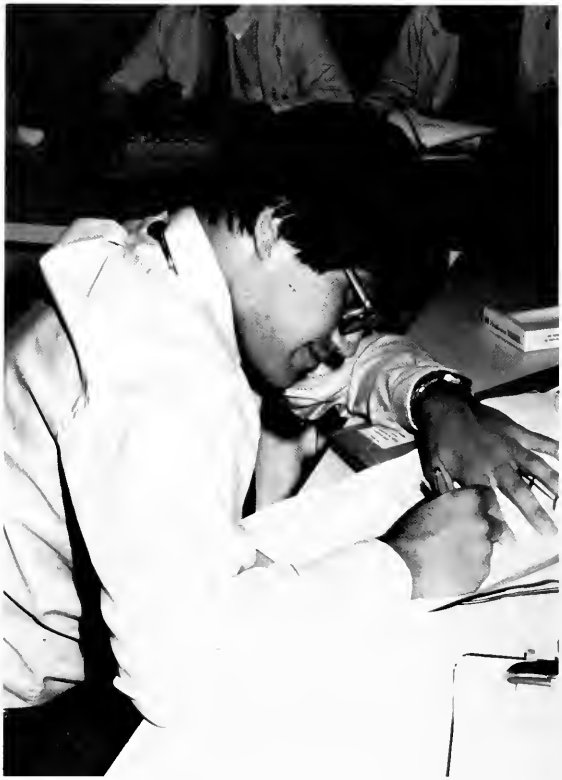
You really think I took this patient to McDonald's with me for french fries, that's really funny. Okay, all right, don't believe me, you never let up, and I happen to like this tie.

So the bad blood is blue, and the good blood is red . . . somebody give me a pillowcase, . . . now who knows where the blood goes to change it from blue to red?

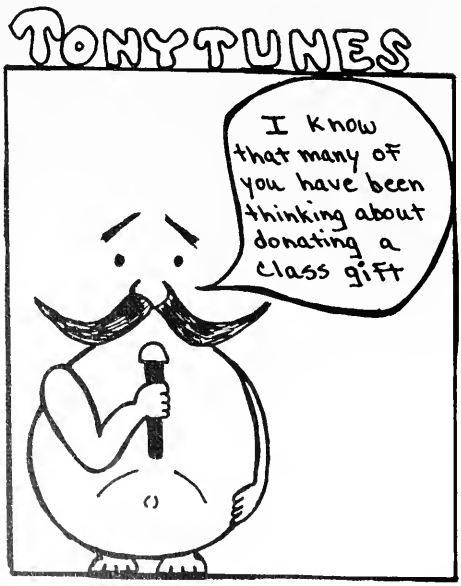
Notice to all Drug Reps: If you feed us, we'll use your products that day!

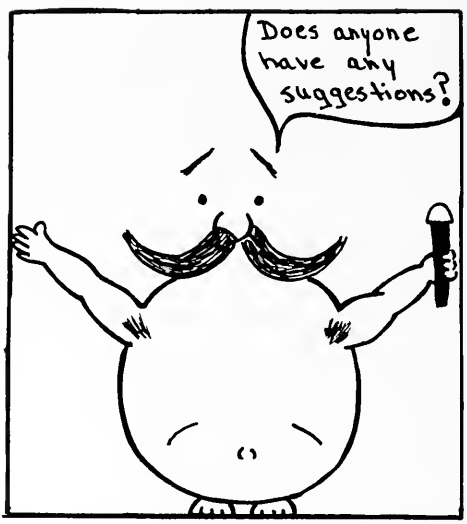
Did you say a blue capsule with an orange stripe, or an orange one with a blue stripe?

"Do you have any trouble urinating . . . do you have any problem passing your water . . . DOES IT HURT WHEN YOU PEE?"



To hell with this H&P . . . where can I find me a case of ketchup?

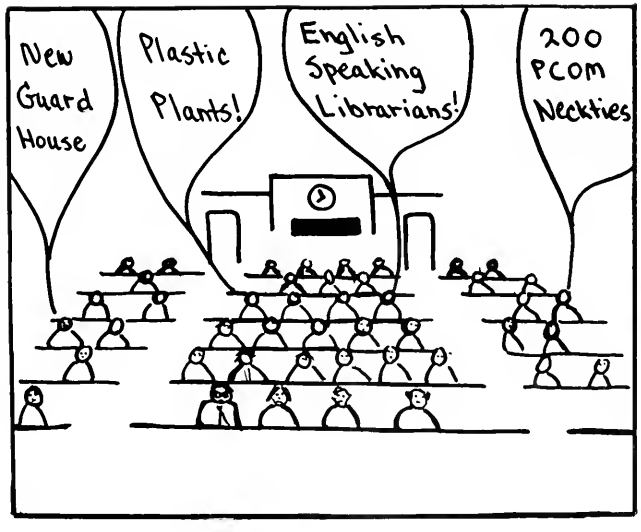


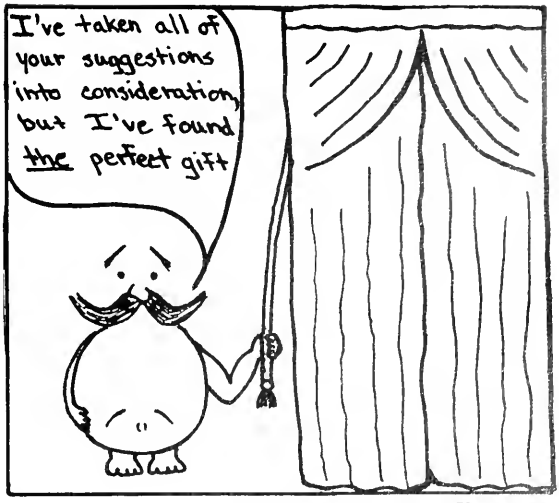


Unidentifiable conglomeration of food, with a wedge-shaped infarct for dessert

"Loves the pain, he says it hurts so good."

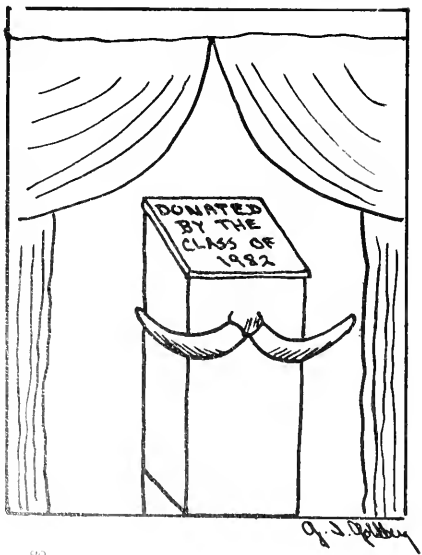
"Notice the peaks and troughs."
"Do you think they are natural, Frank?"
"No, she was my patient on plastic surgery service. By the way, I got these calipers from the 48th Street Clinic.





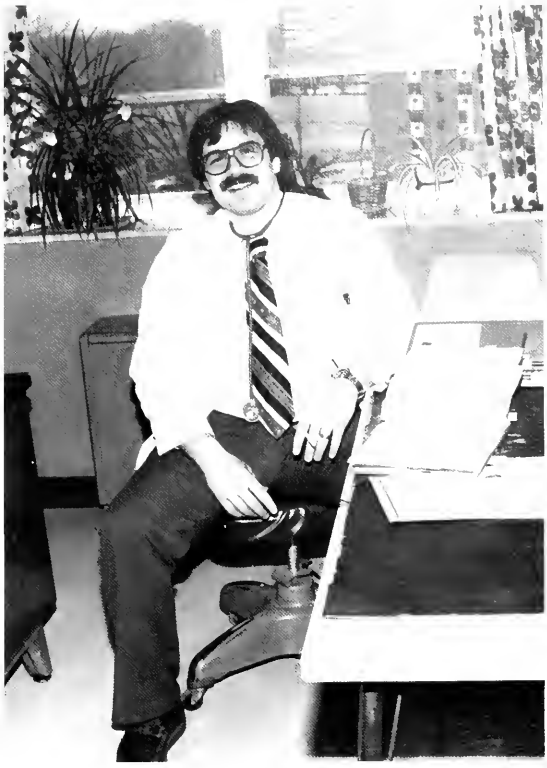
You want ME to change the sheets on those beds.

I didn't want to sing a song, do a dance, or tell a joke, but I have something in my pocket you might like . . .



Listen Claudia, this time when we go in a patient's room, you be the doctor and I'll be the nurse.

Now let's see . . . I know I left my wallet in here somewhere.



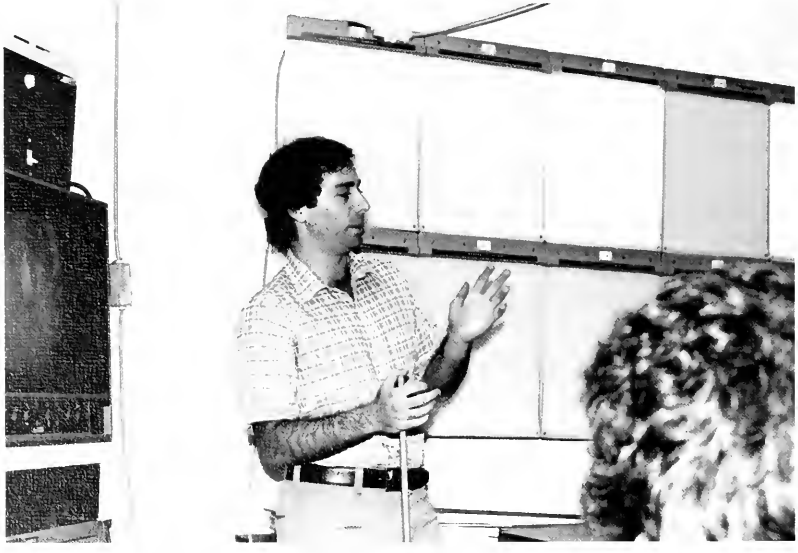
I only smoke one a day . . . it helps toughen up my lungs.

Wow, my own office, my own desk, my own coffee mug and my own ten patients per week workload.

First bring thou own tray, keep a smile on thy face, love in thy heart, and more food on thine tray than anyone else

I don't know . . . I don't do backs.

I'm just helping out down here, I'm a bronchopulmonary expert, and no comments about my lungs!



I know the answer is in my notes, if you will just let me see them for a second.

I hope I'm just like Uncle Bob when I grow up.

Can you whistle Dixie?

Get ready to put on the bow

"Paging Dr. Kola . . . ja . . . checkov, no Dr. Kojak, or Dr. Kolshicky, oh the hell with it, Dr. Karen please call the operator.

"No really, I use everything in these pockets . . . eventually."

"Maybe after awhile I'll tell Ray he shouldn't be filling out these forms with a crayon, and that he should use Total Body Deodorant — TBD."

Seeing, hearing, touching . . . hosing

If he doesn't warm this stethoscope up, I'll push the earpiece through his brain.

Polish Mine Workers

This is a great teaching nose. It will teach us the amount of cotton to use in five patients

Hot sounds downstairs at the center.

There's only one thing I can say now that you're a patient at PCOM's E.R. — Yis-ka-dal V'yis-ka-dash She-mae-raba . . .

I think I've found your problem, you haven't got a nose.

Lord, Thou Great Physician, I kneel before Thee. Since every good and perfect gift must come from Thee,

Dear reader of this book,

Originally I was going to plaster this page with photos. Four days of darkroom work and I had a checkerboard of my favorite shots. I sat and looked at them and realized it was all for vanity. There were pictures of me, of you and me, of me, me, and me. That night I met an old man who seemed dying, day by day. He confronted me, I yielded, turned inside and met him and this is what he said: "You are here but once. Inside you is the potential for Einstein. But also for Hitler. For Schweitzer, for Mother Theresa, but also for Christ. When you were born a seed was planted inside you. Recognize it for what it is — the spirit of God. Nurture it, help it to grow. Make it count. How you care for it is not your business. It is your brothers'. It is God's. You have been challenged with the gift of healing. Use it. Protect it. Discipline your life to it. Don't lose it. For medicine is not a burden, it is a privilege. In this business of healing, you can save people or you can kill people. The responsibility is yours. You can use this gift for yourself or for others. Do not squander it by heaping up great wealth for yourself for you would be gaining from sick people, from suffering people. Don't simply prevent people from dying, but teach them how to live. Never fail to recognize the spiritual nature of your patient. In your life, be not conformed to the world, for as the desert fathers said, society is a shipwreck of manipulation and domination. Seek instead solitude and service. Don't be a foreigner to your Maker."

Aspirations: To live on an island with a Pooka and save the Osteopathic Seals, the whales, the world

I would like to acknowledge the following:
My father, for pushing me when I needed pushing, for loving me when I needed loving; my mother, for her beauty in unselfish giving; my grandmother, for her faith; my sister, Sandy, and Al, for their love and support; Marcia, for being part of my brother; and the Crillys, for their unending support and example as a family.

As he finished my eyes lit up, for my potential was far greater than I had imagined. Before he released me, he bent forward and whispered these final words of truth: Peace, be still, and know I am God. For I am God and there is no other. In quietness and in trust shall be your strength."

"There are only two types of people who succeed in this world; the very smart and the very pleasant. Well, when I was younger I was smart, very smart, and now I recommend pleasant."

WHERE'S MY PASTA?

No greater opportunity or obligation can fall the lot of a human being than to be a physician. In the care of the suffering he needs technical skill, scientific knowledge, and human understanding. He who uses these with courage, humility and wisdom will provide a unique service for his fellow man and will build an enduring edifice of character within himself. The physician should ask of his destiny no more than this, and he should be content with no less.

"I know not how it comes to pass, that professors in most arts and sciences are generally the worst qualified to explain their meanings to those who are not of their tribe. A common farmer shall make you understand in three words, that his foot is out of joint, or his collarbone broken, wherein a surgeon, after a hundred terms of art, if you are not a scholar, shall leave you to seek. It is frequently the same case in law, physics, and even many of the meaner arts . . . I will appeal to any man of letters whether at least nineteen in twenty of those perplexing words might not be into easy words, such as naturally first occur to ordinary men, and probably did so at first to those very gentlemen who are so fond of the former."

"The Last Chapter In The Tale Of The Osteobbitts"

After absorbing the anachronisms of the Wizards, the ostentatious Osteobbitts oozed forth from the fraternal fawnings of the faithful foundation, wrapped in white, waiting for the wildness of the Wicked Darkness. They immediately were immersed in the invasion of the Dark Lord's Legions: Barffood; the Metro Knights; the Barf Knights; the Delval Drives; and the Internal Views of the Internal Ships. But they endured. Tony the Terrible Tyrant; Howard the Humble; Nate the Noble Knight; Gene Gentle (or is that Gentile?); Gawking Gawlas; and Chris' cherished cheeks; all gathered forces to fight the festering fungus found infiltrating the very fiber of the healthy. And throughout all the aggravating antics of the aggressor, they learned the one rule the Wizards had hoped to hatch in their hearts. The Dark Lord, Death, and his Damnable Denizens could never be conquered, but could be contained and controlled in the countless cases of calamity. Although many were lost in those long two years, the Osteobbitts laughed and languished in their learning during . . .

To my godfather, Daniel Gallagher, M.D.; who shaped many of my ideals concerning medicine and compassion for others. To Raymond J. Saloom, D.O.; who helped me realize how Osteopathic Medicine could incorporate my talents. To Quentin Flickinger, D.O., and his lovely wife Ruth; who convinced me that someone has to be the best, and that it might as well be me, many thanks. To PCOM, for giving me a chance to show my stuff. I'd like to thank all of the teachers and physicians who tolerated and trusted me and showed me the art of medicine. For all of the physicians who showed me how medicine should not be practiced; I'm eternally in your debt. To the rest of my family; your understanding and genuine concern will never be forgotten. Lastly, but certainly the most important, I'd like to thank the other physician in the family; my wonderful wife, Carol . . . for without her love, adaptability, and fierce desire for us to be together . . . the end would never have justified the means.

This accomplishment is not solely my achievement, but rather the culmination of the efforts of my family.
My sincere thanks to . . .
My grandparents, whose profound beliefs in education, perserverance and the importance of the family unit helped shaped my destiny long ago.
My mother for her keen common sense, uncompromising moral beliefs and concern for the feelings of others guided me early on in life. I can never be thankful enough for her love.
My father, whose unpretentious personality and compassion for others in need, taught me not only the art of medicine but also serves as a model as to how I should live my life. My brother, Bob, who was always there to help lighten the burden of the past four years. He is truly my Best Friend.

Dear Reader;

"Hey Bob."
"Yea Jeff."
"I think it is our turn to say something to these fine folks reading this yearbook."
"Is that why we're on this page?"
"You Bet!"
"Well, what do you want to say?"
"Beats the hell out of me, what do you want to say?"
"Do you want to tell them how much time and effort was put into the creation of this book?"
"No, they'll probably be bored stiff hearing how we stayed inside during our free nights and weekends and vacations Senior year to work on it."
"Yep, you're probably right."
"I'll tell you what."
"What?"
"Let's begin by thanking everyone who worked on this, the BEST PCOM yearbook ever."
"You're welcome."
"You're welcome!"
"No, let's thank everyone else instead."
"I thought we already did."
"Yes, but not in public."
"OK, Thank you to Dom, for putting together the Senior pages (after I bitched for a month)."
"Thanks to Fitz, for hanging around to the very end and being a terrific help.
"Thanks to Mikey, for going to California so that we could get some work done.
"Thanks to Gibs, for not going on a few more vacations and lending a helping hand.
"Thanks to Howard for a last minute burst of creativity.
"Thanks to Steve and Robin for giving up their weekend to do the final editing.
"Thanks to Gloria and Barb for typing their little fingers to the bone.
"Special thanks to you, Bob, for getting all those wonderful ads together so we could finance this masterpiece and still have money left over for pizza, beer, soda, film, tranquillizers, my new car . . . whoops!!
"AND Thanks especially to my wife, Candi, for putting up with the nine billion hours of work, a messy house, no sleep, lots of aggravation, and me!
"You all are the best. By the way, did I leave anyone out?"
"Yes, what about your cat?"
"Oh yeah, thanks to Jenny . . ."
"No, no, no. Don't you want to thank the people at school who helped us out?"
"Don't stop now, Bobby, you're on a roll."
"Well there's Dr. Rowland and Hale Peffall who have helped enormously in avoiding the red-tape of this project, and whose support kept us going. Then there is Maggie Ferguson and her superb staff in Corporate Communications who spared no expense and busted their tails to help us. And what can I say about all those who supported this book and took out ads. To those parents, faculty, alumnus, physicians and corporations who backed this yearbook financially goes my gratitude and personal thanks. And last, but certainly not least, EXTRA special thanks to Donna and Steve and all the crew at Merin Studios who have been more than our publisher, they are truly good friends . . . Thank you one and all! — Well, we sincerely hope that you enjoyed our yearbook, even though it was a lot of work, we enjoyed putting it together for you. If you were entertained and had a few chuckles then we fulfilled our goal."
". . . To our classmates — Best of luck in whatever field of medicine you choose to go into . . ."
"Keep in touch."

Sincerely yours,

Jeff and Bob.

As an intern at Millcreek Community Hospital, you'll work with specialists in a variety of medical disciplines. A well-rounded clinical program is the training you need for the medical challenges of the future, and Millcreek Community Hospital has it. During assigned rotations, the intern participates in all aspects of patient management from admission to discharge, under supervision of teaching and attending staff.

MCH also offers residency programs for general practice, internal medicine and rehabilitation medicine.

We're a progressive 102-bed total care facility off the shores of Lake Erie. Our region has a four-seasons climate for leisure and recreational activities. In addition, the hospital is in close travel proximity to several metro areas for educational, cultural and sports events.

THE AIR FORCE NEEDS PHYSICIANS

And to get you to be a member of our health care team, we need to make you an attractive offer. We can. We can offer you busy days without the burdens of office overhead. You'll have a well-rounded practice covering the full spectrum of cases. You can work side-by-side with specialists. If you want to specialize, we can help you do that too, provided you are qualified.

You can grow professionally, staying abreast of the latest methods and techniques. Our compensation package is hard to beat. Specific starting pay and rank will be determined by your education and experience. In addition, you'll receive allowances for subsistence and housing (or on-base quarters), professional pay and a substantial bonus. You'll enjoy other advantages — advantages such as 30 days of vacation with pay each year, free medical and dental care, low cost life insurance and, for those who qualify, an excellent retirement program.

Find out more about your future as a member of the Air Force health care team. Contact your nearest Air Force recruiter.

GOING SOMEWHERE?

WE'RE A MODERN HOSPITAL. LANCASTER OSTEOPATHIC HOSPITAL is a 222 bed facility with 7 surgical suites, 2 obstetrical suites, a 12 bed Intensive Coronary Care Unit, a 4 bed Renal Dialysis Unit, complete Mobile Intensive Care Unit, and an active physician staffed Emergency Room. Our equipment and ancillary services are equal to or surpass any in the area.

WE'RE A TEACHING HOSPITAL. LANCASTER OSTEOPATHIC HOSPITAL is affiliated with the Philadelphia, West Virginia and Texas Colleges of Osteopathic Medicine. We have a Rotating Internship Program and offer Residencies in General Practice, General Surgery, Internal Medicine, Obstetrics/Gynecology, Pediatrics, Radiology and Urology.

WE'RE SUPERBLY LOCATED. LANCASTER OSTEOPATHIC HOSPITAL is in the heart of the beautiful Pennsylvania Dutch Country — a progressive industrial and agricultural community offering "The Best of Both Worlds" for you and your family. A socially and culturally vibrant city contrasting with the peaceful Amish lifestyle. Only an hour drive to Philadelphia and a two to three hour drive to New York, Baltimore, Washington, D.C. or the Jersey Shore.

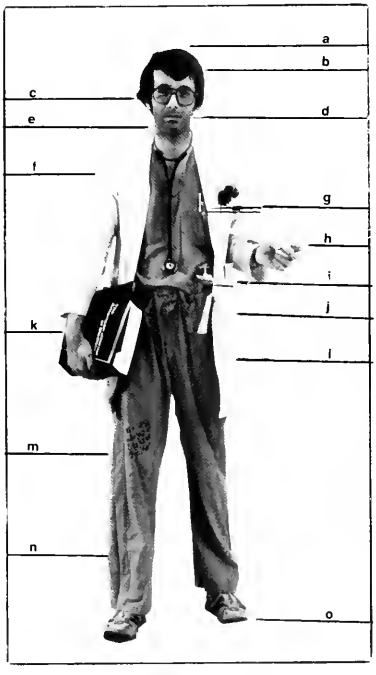
ARE YOU AN INTERN?

This page is meant as a guide for those who will be interning next year. (Women doctors and first year residents at allopathic hospitals will have to make some adjustments.) By mid-July, this is what you should look like. If you look any better, you may be accused of taking it too easy. If you look any worse, you may wind up in the intensive care unit. However if you model yourself after the intern pictured, you will very likely become the MVI (most valuable intern) at your A.O.A. approved hospital.



A — Receeding hairline.
B — 20/200 vision; Bloodshot eyes.
C — Ears able to differentiate between an S_3 and a '68 Buick.
D — Two days growth (some women may need makeup), Cigarette breath.
E — Littman Stethescope — rarely removed from neck.
F — White coat with multiple blood and betadine stains.
G — Pocket Contents: Otoscope-Ophthalmoscope, Reflex hammer, EKG ruler, Cross pens (high school graduation gift).
H — Coffee, black with four sugars.
I — "beeper"
J — Tourniquet.
K — Arm contents: Harrison's; American Journal of Medicine (latest issue); patient list.
L — Pocket contents: Manual of Medical Therapeutics; How to write orders; Find-A-Word Puzzle Book.
M — morning lab results.
N — Scrub suit, property of Shenango Valley.
O — Brooks or Adidas shoes; white socks optional.

The Thing that Counts is not the Time Spent, but the Manner in Which it is Spent." – Leo T. Spears

Explore Your Potential at GRAND RAPIDS OSTEOPATHIC HOSPITAL. Leo Spears speaks to the spirit of our AOA approved clerkships, internships, and residency programs. We look for altruistic doctors with a low tolerance for idleness, indomitable persistence, and who are attentive to the difference between nearly right and exactly right.

Whether in anesthesiology, general surgery, emergency medicine, internal medicine, obstetrics/gynecology, general practice, ophthalmology, otorhinolaryngology, orthopedics, pediatrics or urology, we foster an atmosphere of coordination and cooperation and a place to learn and speak openly, plainly, and frankly.

This 265-bed modern facility in West Michigan will allow you to shun mediocrity and to grow medically and personally with strength, character and pride in what you will accomplish

Community General Osteopathic Hospital successfully combines the best of two worlds. It offers quality metropolitan care in a suburban atmosphere. The Hospital boasts an array of modern facilities, but still manages to deliver health care on a very personal and individual level.

Opportunities exist for residencies and internships in:

* Family Practice
* General Surgery
* Internal Medicine
* Orthopedic Surgery
* OB/GYN

in this 178-bed, acute care, nonprofit health care facility.

Please write, call or pay us a visit. We'd like to meet you and introduce you to Community General Osteopathic Hospital. A great place to learn!

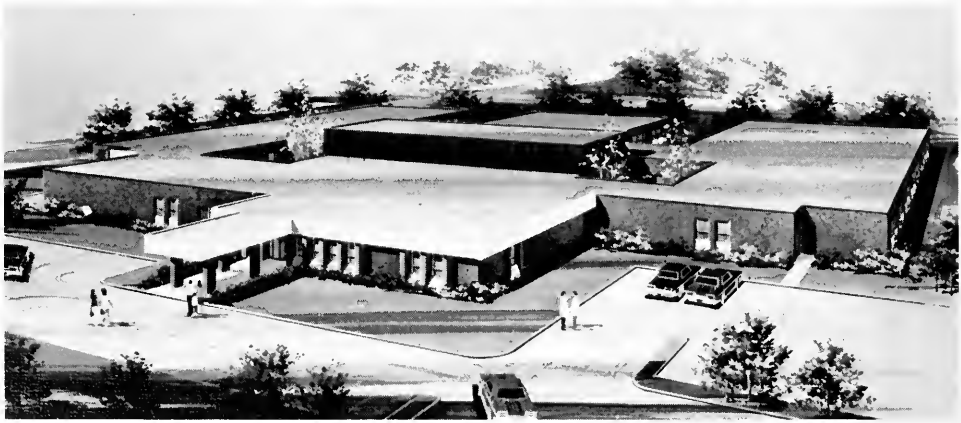
SET YOUR MILESTONE WITH US . . .

Michigan Osteopathic Medical Center

Michigan Osteopathic Medical Center Child & Youth Mental Health Hospital



In late 1982 Michigan Osteopathic Medical Center set a milestone for osteopathic medicine when we opened two major health care facilities in Detroit – a 240-bed replacement hospital and a 60-bed psychiatric hospital for children and youth.

Our tradition of providing quality health care goes back many years. Our forerunners – Art Centre and Zieger osteopathic hospitals – opened in the mid-forties. These hospitals – now our East and West hospitals – merged in 1978, forming MOMC. In addition to our East and West hospitals, today we operate a 56-bed Adult Mental Health Hospital (the first to offer an AOA-approved residency in psychiatry), an interim 38-bed facility for children and youth and other facilities where osteopathic physicians realize the full range of their professional talents.

We are a hospital corporation on the move. You can set personal milestones for your own professional development through our intern and residency programs. Our staff is organized by clinical departments (anesthesiology, general practice, internal medicine, neurology, obstetrics and gynecology, ophthalmology/otorhinolaryngology, pathology, pediatrics, adult and child psychiatry, radiology, and surgery) – and by services (orthopedics and outpatient). For information on how you can fit into the picture at MOMC, write or phone Raymond A. Gadowski, D.O., Vice President, Medical Education, Michigan Osteopathic Medical Center, 7430 Second Avenue, Detroit, Michigan 48202. (313) 874-9100.

LAW REVIEW QUESTIONS

Refer to the below paragraph for Questions 65-67:

Dr. Big Nick, while demonstrating cranial manipulation in OPP class, inadvertently plunged his thumb through Tony Silvagni's skull and destroyed his temporal lobe. Tony suddenly became hypotensive and started babbling something about a marble plaque. With Dr. Nick's thumb still in place, Tony was rushed to the O.M.C.P. TRAUMA UNIT, where Dr. Ray Blade inserted 17 central lines, 6 of which were also placed in nearby nurses and medical students. Dr. Nick complained that his hand was getting tired, so he and Tony were rushed to the Surgical Suite of O.M.C.P. where Dr. G. Old was waiting. As the operation proceeded the ever courteous O.M.C.P. scrub nurse became hungry, dropped her instruments, hit a medical student and left. Dr. Old then permanently sewed Dr. Nick's thumb to Tony's head, performed a hemimustachectomy and threw in a hemorrhoidectomy for nothing. Tony sued the O.M.C.P., the hospital sued the doctors, and the hospital union gave the scrub nurse a $17.35 per hour raise.

65. Tony could sue the hospital on the basis of what legal principle?
    a) res ipsa loquitor
    b) Quid quo pro bowl
    c) Quid squid pid
    d) res ipsa ipsa mazal tov e pluribus
    e) Et tu Brute?

66. In legal terms, describe Dr. Old's mistakes:
    a) boo-boo, no-no, uh-oh
    b) voire dire
    c) did not get signed consent
    d) no mistakes — normal Osteopathic surgical technique
    e) a total mustachectomy is indicated with this procedure.

67. At the trial the defense questions Tony, but Dr. Nick, who is still attached to Tony, answers instead. Tony questions the prosecution, Dr. Nick questions Tony, and we question the value of cranical manipulation. This last line of questioning is known as
    a) cross examination
    b) re-direct examination
    c) breast self-examination
    d) how do I know, I was at FRAN'S for lunch during the law course.
